The cruiser Raieigh is the first of Admiral Dewey's gallant fleet to return to a home port. She represents the fleet that first demonstrated to the world what the American navy is. It had been a favorite trick of the cheap humorists to make tun of our ships and men and for more serious critics to predict disaster if they ever came in conflict with even a third rate European havy. On May 1 last year Dewey and his men changed all that. The story of how he led his fleet into Manila bay, disregarding turpedoes and mines, is too need repetition, and every one recalls the result, how the Spanish fleet was wiped out with a loss of over 400 men and how not one American sall-or was killed. In all this the Raleigh ore her due share. She was one of the bore her due share.
